Notes:

1. Counts are approximations - data as submitted have not been fully vetted
 - a. Double counting of schools receiving tuitions occurs as identical names are not always used in submissions by reporting districts or names are misspelled - e.g., Granville versus Granville School District.
 - b. Some private schools are identified as public and vice versa.
2. Dresden is an interstate district with the high school located in New Hampshire. Tuitioning districts code that as an out-of-state public school. For tuitioning purposes, Hanover High School is considered to be in-state, as it is part of both New Hampshire and Vermont.
3. The line labeled "Individual" represents public districts paying individual parents who paid tuition directly to an approved Vermont independent school.
